

Happy Mother's Day Message, 2007

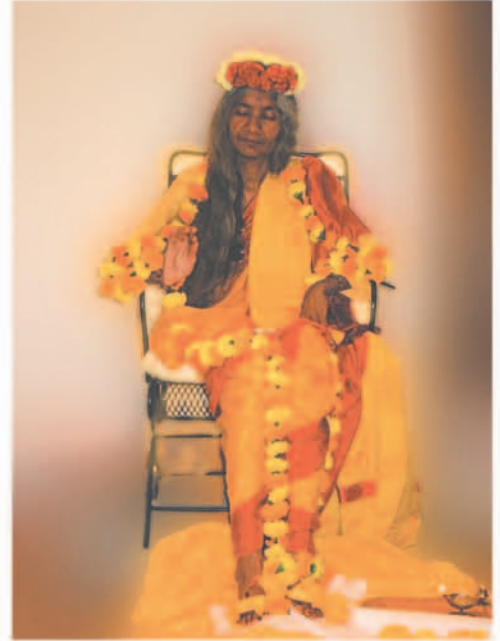

Oh My Beloved Universal Family,

Let all come together.

Let all speak together.

Let all thoughts be of harmony.

The Shining Ones, who found the true wealth in days of old, all performed worship in this manner.

When all thoughts are absorbed in mantra, then the mind becomes filled with the recollection most glorious.

When all thoughts are absorbed in mantra and directed to the mantra, then all other thoughts become oblations to the Divine Fire.

These thoughts are common.

This place is common.

So may our hearts be united as well.

May all thoughts of all minds be in union so that all may experience excellent delight!

Peace in the heavens, Peace on the earth, Peace to all.

Shree Maa

Blessings to you all
